SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $70.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the world for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

LEATHER WORK,

In Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized sides. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmer's stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE,

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of,

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric, such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

Who take pleasure in placing their Machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make

and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter Stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

DAILY GAZETTE.

From the Fifth Regiment.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE GAZETTE:—Thinking the friends of Co. E would like to hear how we are getting along, I thought I would improve the present opportunity of dropping a few lines to them through the medium of your press. We are in fine spirits at present, having only two men in hospital, and those are getting along finely. We have over 60 men fit for duty, and are capable of doing as much as any company in the regiment. The weather is not very agreeable now, and I believe the sacred soil of Virginia is able to produce more mud than any other state in rebellion.

We cannot suggest what is in store for the 5th in the future, nor do we care much, if we are not called upon to perform a dishonorable act. We are always ready and willing to perform what is assigned to us. We enlisted to fight against those dastardly villains who are trying to overthrow this government of ours, the best the world ever knew.

And to those cowardly traitors in the north—those base, ignoble wretches who are insulting every true and loyal man by calling themselves by the same name, to them we would say, beware! The loyal men are not going to remain from home always, and woe be to them when we return, unless they cease in their traitorous designs. I cannot find words to express the punishment due to them if they continue in their mean and treacherous outrages. But, no matter how secret they are in accomplishing their designs, there is a God above who will surely punish them in time to come, if they are fortunate enough to escape the retribution which the loyal men see fit to inflict on them while they are at work.

I remain respectfully yours, T.

GIANT VEGETABLES.—Cabbages weighing fifteen pounds are wonders in the New York market; in San Francisco they are common. Whole fields of cabbage heads, weighing twenty pounds each, have been grown; and hard, solid heads, with no loose leaves, weighing forty-five and fifty-three pounds each are on record. One cabbage, which did not make a head, grew to be seven feet wide, throwing out leaves three and a half feet long on each side. In many cases the cabbage has been converted into a perennial, evergreen, tree-like plant, by preventing it from going to seed. Several of these are now growing in the state, with stalks from two to six feet high, and a foliage that grows through winter and summer. In 1857 one squash vine on the ranch of James Simmons, in Yuba county, produced one hundred and thirty squashes, weighing in all twenty-six hundred and four pounds. In the same year, J. Q. A. Ballou, at San Jose, grew two squashes, weighing two hundred and ten and two hundred and four pounds respectively.

The largest California onion weighed forty seven ounces avoirdupois, and measured twenty two inches in circumference. Our onions generally excel those of the eastern states in size and weight.

Our largest red beet weighed one hundred and eighteen pounds—was five feet long and a foot in diameter. It was three years old. The first year it grew to weigh forty-eight pounds, and because of its large size was reserved for seed; but it disappointed its owner, and, instead of producing seed the next year, merely kept on growing, and reached the size of eighty-six pounds; and the following year got to be a hundred and eighteen. Such beets can be grown in abundance. A beet of twenty pounds is a wonder in New York or London; here it is too common to attract more than a glance. Beets frequently are three feet long, so that it requires no little trouble to dig them out.—Hittel.

A REMARKABLE CASE OF HALLUCINATION.—Coroner Collins was called to hold an inquest upon the body of a child, aged three years, that resided with its parents in 331 street, between 11th and 12th avenues.—The circumstances attending the child's death are somewhat remarkable. Mary Nell, the mother of the deceased, testified that a week ago last Monday, she fully made up her mind to test the question as to whether the deceased was her child. A man who formerly lived in the same house had told witness that there were "fairies" about. Before coming in this country from Ireland, witness was taught the common superstition of her country, that whenever "fairies" frequented a house it was presumptive evidence that some child in the family had been changed for another while in its cradle; and that the true way to test the matter was to heat a shovel red-hot, and then make the child sit upon it. If it were a fairy child, or one not belonging to the mother, it would fly away, but if it remained it was her own child. The mother says she made this test by heating a shovel until it was red hot, and then she sat the child upon it. The result was, the child was burned so badly that it died in about a week afterward. Mathias Noll, the husband of the deluded mother, testified that he did not know about the child having been burned till just previous to its death; that for some time past he had occasionally thought his wife was insane, she acted so strangely. The jury rendered a verdict that "the deceased came to its death by burns received at the hands of its mother."—N. Y. Tribune.

NO COMMAND FOR GEN. FREMONT.—The friends of Gen. Fremont in Washington feel much disappointed that he has returned to New York without a command. Prominent senators were assured weeks ago that he should not only have "command," but an important one. But it became evident that no one connected with the war department had any such intention. The secretary of war says that his disposition is favorable to Fremont, but that Gen. Halleck will not consent to it. This may be so; but some of the friends of the General believe that neither the president, secretary or general-in-chief have ever intended to give him a prominent command, and, perhaps, have not expected to offer him any place. The fact is now apparently fixed that Gen. Fremont is to lie upon the shelf during the remainder of the war.—N. Y. Post.

EXPERIMENTS WITH GREEK FIRE.—A few days since, by order of the secretaries of war and navy, a number of experiments were made with the celebrated "Greek Fire." The Greek fire is of two kinds—liquid and solidified. The liquid is used by means of force pumps, and the solidified is placed in shells, which, upon exploding, burn with an intense heat. The fire can neither be smothered nor extinguished with water. The first experiment made yesterday was with three and a half pints of liquid, which, upon being thrown into a barrel of water, burned with great intensity for 17½ minutes. The solidified was tried by throwing a quantity of it among a mass of chips and on a plank. The flame lasted over a minute and a quarter. The experiments were witnessed by all the navy yard officials, all of whom expressed great satisfaction at the trial. The Greek fire can be used both in our land and naval forces, and is now being experimented with on board of several of our gunboats.

"GOD SAVE MY COUNTRY!"—When Gen. Sumner's disease assumed the form of congestion of the lungs, his physicians (Drs. Townbridge and Shipman) pronounced his condition critical, but they did not despair of his restoration to health until Friday afternoon, about two o'clock, when a change took place; his fever left him, and he suffered intense physical agony, accompanied by profuse prespiration; and soon he sank into a lethargic state, from which he did not rally. Towards evening of Friday, the dying soldier attempted vainly to speak intelligibly to those about him. At last, when a glass of wine was handed him, he took it in his hand, and with a great effort waved it above his head, and spoke in a voice as clear and distinct as ever,—"God save my country, the United States of America!" Those were the last words of the patriotic hero. He sank rapidly until a quarter past one o'clock, and died peacefully.—Syracuse (N. Y.) Daily Journal.

PLANING MILL AND BARREL FACTORY BURNED.—About eleven o'clock on Friday night the planing mill and barrel factory, situated in the east part of the village, was discovered to be on fire. The fire broke out in the engine and boiler room, and got under such headway before any one got to it that it was impossible to extinguish it. Those who were present exerted themselves to save what they could of the machinery in the building, but the fire made such rapid progress that but little was saved. The main building was occupied as a stave factory, by W. M. & S. Dunn, whose loss in building and machinery is not far from $2,000. Mr. J. Hill occupied the west part of the building as a planing mill. His loss cannot be far from $800, and falls heavily on him, as his planer was a new one, and he had just got it in good running order.—Fort Atkinson Standard.

A SEVERE PUNISHMENT.—A captain in the division, a German, and a very strict disciplinarian, had his company drawn up for the usual Sunday inspection. One dirty scrub who, oft times before, had offended the captain's idea of soldierly neatness by having filthy arms and clothing, excited his ire to such an extent that for some time he was in doubt as to what punishment he could inflict adequate to the enormity of the offence.

At last the idea struck him; the punishment had been found him.

"You dirty rascal. You disgrace de company. I punish you sewerely. You shall attend divine serwice this day. I'll be dam if you don't." And, cautioning the sergeant to see the full penalty inflicted, dismissed his company, satisfied that in future there would be no more dirty arms or clothing on inspection.—Army Cor. St. Louis Democrat.

The Jessup Grain Drill!

Improved and Made by

R. J. RICHARDSON.

THE satisfaction which the Richardson Drill gave in 1862 has induced me to Make Double the Number for 1863.

The principle of the Drill is all that was at first claimed for it. The experience of 1862 enables me to make them just

Adapted to the Peculiarities of this Soil,

which is very difficult to till.

More than three hundred of these drills were used in this vicinity last spring, and it is universally conceded that the Richardson Drill is

PERFECTLY ACCURATE

in the quantity of Seed Sown per Acre, and that it is easily adjusted to any quantity desired. It is also conceded that the Richardson Drill is the

Lightest Draft and the Easiest for the Team

of any Drill yet introduced.

The drills of 1863 are readily changeable from double to single rank. The points are longer, sharper and heavier than those of 1862, which render them better adapted to the hard and crusty soil of early fall plowing. Notwithstanding the

Large Advance on Material

we have concluded to offer our drills at the

as in 1862, which is as follows: 9 tooth, $70; 10 tooth, $75; 11 tooth $80; 12 tooth, $85; 13 tooth, $90.

To those who know the Richardson Drill it is needless to say anything. To those who do not know them, we would ask an examination, and refer to any one who has used them. Our drills are now

READY FOR EXHIBITION.

They are made at the well known

Rock River Iron Works

of Harris, Guild, Angel & Tyler. The character of their work is well known. I would like everybody to examine these drills.

To those wishing to purchase drills, I would say that I guarantee their

Working to the Entire Satisfactio

of the purchaser, or No Sale.

The Corn Planter Attachment

to the Richardson Drill will plant corn

In Hills Accurately

and any distance apart, from two to five feet, and two or three rows at once.

Mr. W. H. Reed, of La Prairie, used one of the Richardson Twelve Tooth Drills to

Plant Over 50 Acres of Corn

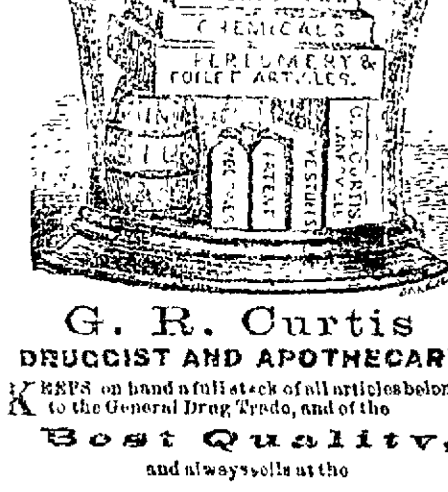

and 100 acres of wheat. He planted three rows of corn at once, and in hills to suit his mind. Any one wishing to know about the plants, please inquire of Mr. Reed.

GREAT REDUCTION
—IN—
The Prices
—OF—
SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $70.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the world for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.
Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis.

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

Who take pleasure in placing their Machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make

and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done while the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter Stamp and we will send circulars and sample of work by return mail.

DAILY GAZETTE.

From the Fifth Regiment.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE GAZETTE:—Thinking the friends of Co. E would like to hear how we are getting along, I thought I would improve the present opportunity of dropping a few lines to them through the medium of your press. We are in fine spirits at present, having only two men in hospital, and those are getting along finely. We have over 60 men fit for duty, and are capable of doing as much as any company in the regiment. The weather is not very agreeable now, and I believe the sacred soil of Virginia is able to produce more mud than any other state in rebellion.

We cannot suggest what is in store for the 5th in the future, nor do we care much, if we are not called upon to perform a dishonorable act. We are always ready and willing to perform what is assigned to us We enlisted to fight against those dastardly villains who are trying to overthrow this government of ours, the best the world ever knew.

And to those cowardly traitors in the north—those base, ignoble wretches who are insulting every true and loyal man by calling themselves by the same name, to them we would say, beware! The loyal men are not going to remain from home always, and woe be to them when we return, unless they cease in their traitorous designs. I cannot find words to express the punishment due to them if they continue in their mean and treacherous outrages. But, no matter how secret they are in accomplishing their designs, there is a God above who will surely punish them in time to come, if they are fortunate enough to escape the retribution which the loyal men see fit to inflict on them while they are at work.

I remain respectfully yours, T.

GIANT VEGETABLES.—Cabbages weighing fifteen pounds are wonders in the New York market; in San Francisco they are common. Whole fields of cabbage heads, weighing twenty pounds each, have been grown; and hard, solid heads, with no loose leaves, weighing forty-five and fifty-three pounds each are on record. One cabbage, which did not make a head, grew to be seven feet wide, throwing out leaves three and a half feet long on each side. In many cases the cabbage has been converted into a perennial, evergreen, tree-like plant, by preventing it from going to seed. Several of these are now growing in the state, with stalks from two to six feet high, and a foliage that grows through winter and summer. In 1857 one squash vine on the ranch of James Simmons, in Yuba county, produced one hundred and thirty squashes, weighing in all twenty-six hundred and four pounds. In the same year, J. Q. A. Ballou, at San Jose, grew two squashes, weighing two hundred and ten and two hundred and four pounds respectively.

The largest California onion weighed forty seven ounces avoirdupois, and measured twenty-two inches in circumference. Our onions generally excel those of the eastern states in size and weight.

Our largest red beet weighed one hundred and eighteen pounds—was five feet long and a foot in diameter. It was three years old. The first year it grew to weigh forty-eight pounds, and because of its large size was reserved for seed; but it disappointed its owner, and, instead of producing seed the next year, merely kept on growing, and reached the size of eighty-six pounds; and the following year got to be a hundred and eighteen. Such beets can be grown in abundance. A beet of twenty pounds is a wonder in New York or London; here it is too common to attract more than a glance. Beets frequently are three feet long, so that it requires no little trouble to dig them out.—Hittel.

A REMARKABLE CASE OF HALLUCINATION.—Coroner Collins was called to hold an inquest upon the body of a child, aged three years, that resided with its parents in 831 street, between 11th and 12th avenues.—The circumstances attending the child's death are somewhat remarkable. Mary Nell, the mother of the deceased, testified that a week ago last Monday, she fully made up her mind to test the question as to whether the deceased was her child. A man who formerly lived in the same house had told witness that there were "fairies" about. Before coming in this country from Ireland, witness was taught the common superstition of her country, that whenever "fairies" frequented a house it was presumptive evidence that some child in the family had been changed for another while in its cradle; and that the true way to test the matter was to heat a shovel red-hot, and then make the child sit upon it. If it were a fairy child, or one not belonging to the mother, it would fly away, but if it remained it was her own child. The mother says she made this test by heating a shovel until it was red hot, and then she sat the child upon it. The result was, the child was burned so badly that it died in about a week afterward. Mathias Nell, the husband of the deluded mother, testified that he did not know about the child having been burned till just previous to its death; that for some time past he had occasionally thought his wife was insane, she acted so strangely. The jury rendered a verdict that "the deceased came to its death by burns received at the hands of its mother."—N. Y. Tribune.

NO COMMAND FOR GEN. FREMONT.—The friends of Gen. Fremont in Washington feel much disappointed that he has returned to New York without a command. Prominent senators were assured weeks ago that he should not only have "command," but an important one. But it became evident that no one connected with the war department had any such intention. The secretary of war says that his disposition is favorable to Fremont, but that Gen. Halleck will not consent to it. This may be so; but some of the friends of the General believe that neither the president, secretary or general-in-chief have ever intended to give him a prominent command, and, perhaps, have not expected to offer him any place. The fact is now apparently fixed that Gen. Fremont is to lie upon the shelf during the remainder of the war.—N. Y. Post.

EXPERIMENTS WITH GREEK FIRE.—A few days since, by order of the secretaries of war and navy, a number of experiments were made with the celebrated "Greek Fire." The Greek fire is of two kinds—liquid and solidified. The liquid is used by means of force pumps, and the solidified is placed in shells, which, upon exploding, burn with an intense heat. The fire can neither be smothered nor extinguished with water. The first experiment made yesterday was with three and a half pints of liquid, which, upon being thrown into a barrel of water, burned with great intensity for 17½ minutes. The solidified was tried by throwing a quantity of it among a mass of chips and on a plank. The flame lasted over a minute and a quarter. The experiments were witnessed by all the navy yard officials, all of whom expressed great satisfaction at the trial. The Greek fire can be used both in our land and naval forces, and is now being experimented with on board of several of our gunboats.

"GOD SAVE MY COUNTRY!"—When Gen. Sumner's disease assumed the form of congestion of the lungs, his physicians (Drs. Townbridge and Shipman) pronounced his condition critical, but they did not despair of his restoration to health until Friday afternoon, about two o'clock, when a change took place; his fever left him, and he suffered intense physical agony, accompanied by profuse prespiration; and soon he sank into a lethargic state, from which he did not rally. Towards evening of Friday, the dying soldier attempted vainly to speak intelligibly to those about him. At last, when a glass of wine was handed him, he took it in his hand, and with a great effort waved it above his head, and spoke in a voice as clear and distinct as ever,—"God save my country, the United States of America!" These were the last words of the patriotic hero. He sank rapidly until a quarter past one o'clock, and died peacefully.—Syracuse (N. Y.) Daily Journal.

PLANING MILL AND BARREL FACTORY BURNED.—About eleven o'clock on Friday night the planing mill and barrel factory, situated in the east part of the village, was discovered to be on fire. The fire broke out in the engine and boiler room, and got under such headway before any one got to it that it was impossible to extinguish it. Those who were present exerted themselves to save what they could of the machinery in the building, but the fire made such rapid progress that but little was saved. The main building was occupied as a stave factory, by W. M. & S. Dann, whose loss in building and machinery is not far from $2,000. Mr. J. Hill occupied the west part of the building as a planing mill. His loss cannot be far from $800, and falls heavily on him, as his planer was a new one, and he had just got it in good running order.—Fort Atkinson Standard.

A SEVERE PUNISHMENT.—A captain in the division, a German, and a very strict disciplinarian, had his company drawn up for the usual Sunday inspection. One dirty scrub who, oft times before, had offended the captain's idea of soldierly neatness by having filthy arms and clothing, excited his ire to such an extent that for some time he was in doubt as to what punishment he could inflict adequate to the enormity of the offence.

At last the idea struck him; the punishment had been found him.

"You dirty rascal. You disgrace de company. I punish you sewerely. You shall attend diwine serwice this day. I'll be dam if you don't." And, cautioning the sergeant to see the full penalty inflicted, dismissed his company, satisfied that in future there would be no more dirty arms or clothing on inspection.—Army Cor. St. Louis Democrat.

The Jessup Grain Drill!

Improved and Made by

R. J. RICHARDSON.

THE satisfaction which the Richardson Drill gave in 1862 has induced me to Make Double the Number for 1863.

The principle of the Drill is all that was at first claimed for it. The experience of 1862 enables me to make them just

Adapted to the Peculiarities of this Soil,

which is very difficult to till.
More than three hundred of these drills were used in this vicinity last spring, and it is universally conceded that the Richardson Drill is in the quantity of Seed Sown per Acre, and that it is easily adjusted to any quantity desired. It is also conceded that the Richardson Drill is the

PERFECTLY ACCURATE

of any Drill yet introduced.
The drills of 1863 are readily changeable from double to single rank. The points are longer, sharper and heavier than those of 1862, which render them better adapted to the hard and crusty soil of early fall plowing.
Notwithstanding the

Large Advance on Material

we have concluded to offer our drills at the

as in 1862, which is as follows: 9 tooth, $70; 10 tooth, $75; 11 tooth, $80; 12 tooth, $85; 13 tooth, $90.
To those who know the Richardson Drill it is needless to say anything. Of those who do not know them, we would ask an examination, and refer to any one who has used them. Our drills are now

READY FOR EXHIBITION.

They are made at the well known

Rock River Iron Works

of Harris, Guild, Angel & Tyler. The character of their work is well known. I would like everybody to examine these drills.
To those wishing to purchase drills, I would say that I guarantee their

Working to the Entire Satisfactio

of the purchaser, or No Sale.

The Corn Planter Attachment

to the Richardson Drill will plant corn

In Hills Accurately

and any distance apart, from two to five feet, and two or three rows at once.
Mr. W. H. Reed, of La Prairie, used one of the Richardson Twelve Tooth Drills to

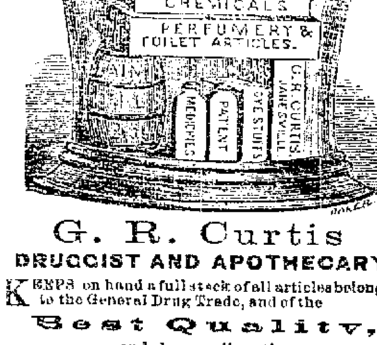

Plant Over 50 Acres of Corn

and 100 acres of wheat. He planted three rows of corn at once, and in hills to suit his mind. Any one wishing to know about the planter please inquire of Mr. Reed.

The Post Master at Milwaukee.

We learn that the rumor of the removal of John Lockwood as port master of Milwaukee, and the appointment of C. L. Sholes, proves correct. We also understand that Mr. Lockwood had no notice of the intention of the government, and that no charges were preferred against him. It is understood, however, that the removal was made at the instigation of Senator Doolittle, because Mr. Lockwood did not support him in the late contest for the senatorship.

It is believed, not without good reason, that Senator Doolittle had the control of nearly the entire federal patronage of the state for the purpose of insuring his election. This has been submitted to in silence by that large portion of the republican party who were opposed to his re-election, hoping and expecting that, having succeeded in his desires, his election would be the end of the contest.

It seems, however, that this reasonable expectation is not to be realized, and that the senator is disposed to proscribe and and punish those who did not favor him. We may conclude that the displacement of Mr. Lockwood is but the beginning of the working of the official guillotine, and that it will not cease until all who were not Doolittle men are removed from office.

Should this become the practice in the republican party it would reduce its members to the condition of mere slaves of the dominant faction, having no freedom of choice in regard to candidates for office within its organization, to be controlled by the successful demagogues who succeed best in obtaining the ear of power, and rendering all liable to become the victims of proscription who do not sacrifice their independence and manhood to the dictation of intriguing party leaders. Against this tyrannical abuse of political organizations we shall always protest. If persisted in it can have no other effect than an early dissolution and disastrous defeat of the party which sanctions so great an outrage upon the rights of those who compose it.

Those Who Vote Must Bear Arms.

The opinion of the supreme court reaffirms the doctrine announced by the secretary of war some months ago, that those who vote are liable to draft for military service. Men who are citizens sufficiently to vote and to hold office are sufficiently citizens to be liable to aid in the defence of the government.

Club Meeting Last Night.

The court room was filled last evening with an intelligent audience to hear Senator Howe and Mr. Nichols. The latter made the first address, and for an hour kept his hearers attentive listeners. His address abounded in good things and just sentiments, and was filled with those sharp thrusts all expected to hear. Sen. Howe spoke for about an hour, and made an excellent speech. His exhortations to unity in support of the war were earnest and met a warm response, while his condemnation of those who are withholding their support and embarrassing the prosecution of the war were justly severe and well timed. Such meetings are efficient helpers of the cause of loyalty against rebellion in the south and treason in the north.

CAUGHT A TARTAR.—The democrats and conservatives, so called, of Rhode Island, recently nominated Ex-Gov. Hoppin as their candidate for governor. They adopted resolutions tinged with copperhead sentiments. The candidate refuses to run on such a platform. "My expectations," he says, "of uniting the democratic and conservative strength of Rhode Island in support of the general government not having been realized by the proceedings of the convention I must respectfully decline the nomination." In a letter to Gov. Sprague, he said that if his name was to be used as a candidate, "the canvass must be conducted on the platform of absolute and unconditional loyalty and fidelity to the Union of the states, its constitution and government. The democrats have accordingly taken up Wm. C. Cozzens, of Newport, formerly a prominent know nothing.

DEFEATED.—The bill allowing the Racine Railroad to consolidate with the Chicago & Northwestern has been defeated in the assembly by a decided vote. It is expected that all other bills of the same nature will meet with the same fate.

SALE OF GOLD.—The treasurer of this state has sold the gold in the treasury, and realized over $10,000 in premium. This will make good all the state ever lost on depreciated currency.

THE REBEL DESPOTISM.—The Richmond Enquirer, of Wednesday last says:

"The conscription officers have been quite busy for a few days, hereabouts, hauling in the nice young men."

A SIGN.—The New York Herald generally follows the course of public sentiment, good or bad. The Herald now speaks out strongly for the government and against copperheads.

From The Gulf Department.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Evening Post.

NEW ORLEANS, March 15.

Our news from Baton Rouge is meagre in detail. A reconnoissance in force took place some days since. We learn that this was accomplished by three brigades, which advanced slowly from Baton Rouge on the road leading toward Port Hudson, removing felled timber, etc., with which the way was obstructed, until they reached a stream some six miles from Baton Rouge, the bridge over which had been destroyed.—The force then returned to Baton Rouge, and no further news of a forward movement has reached New Orleans.

THE REBEL POSITION AT PORT HUDSON.

Army officers are satisfied that the strength of the rebels at Port Hudson has been much underrated, and that the place is occupied by at least forty-five thousand men, a large portion of them well drilled and accustomed to service. It is said that Gen. Joe Johnson is or is to be in command. Port Hudson, with the natural advantages of its position, its fortifications skillfully constructed and laid out, its large body of defenders and its experienced and able commandant, will undoubtedly prove a dearly bought acquisition when it comes into the hands of the government. It is a matter of very grave doubt whether this department can at present spare an effective force sufficient for its reduction.

The danger of a flank movement by the enemy, bringing a force between the advancing army and Baton Rouge, or falling suddenly upon that place, is not to be lost sight of for an instant. In a word Gen. Banks has not men enough under him fit for service to undertake a forward movement of great magnitude, and at the same time protect the territory already occupied, and keep up his connection with the base of operations.

THE REAL PURPOSE AND IMPORTANCE OF THE MOVEMENT.

I am informed by an official of very high position, that the movement against Port Hudson is merely a feint to cover an attempt to be made within a few days, if it did not take place last night, to run the fleet under Admiral Farragut past Port Hudson, for the purpose of taking possession of that great highway for the passage of confederate supplies, the Red river and of stopping the career of the Queen of the West and her associates between Port Hudson and Vicksburg. If the fleet should succeed in this enterprise they would inflict a damage upon the rebellion hardly to be over-estimated. The amount of supplies of provisions and manufactured goods crossing the Mississippi for the confederacy within this region, now wholly under rebel control, is prodigious.

To obtain permanent possession of the Red river and the Mississippi along this region would be worth more to the United States, in the present and the future, than almost any other possible success. The rebels are fully aware of this, as the presence of two great armies at Vicksburg and Port Hudson, and the force under Bragg before Rosecrans—which also protects the Mississippi by guarding the flanks of the armies on its banks—sufficiently attests. The time is not long since passed since a few gunboats, actively cruising up and down the river south of Vicksburg, could have kept it open from the Delta to that point, and have prevented the erection of the fortifications which have made a Gibraltar of Port Hudson.

Even now there are five or six bluffs unprotected by strong defenses between Vicksburg and Port Hudson, and the advent of a few heavily-armed steamers upon that part of the river would prove a godsend to the Union cause. Give the rebels time, and there is no doubt that they will make the most of the natural strength of these positions. Vicksburg and Port Hudson now in our hands, it would be necessary to occupy those intermediate bluffs without delay, build strong works upon them, and place strong garrisons therein. Then 75,000 men would be none too few to hold the river and keep its navigation possible, until the successes of our arms in the interior should render it impossible that the enemy could attempt to regain the great aorta of our western prosperity.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF.

This department is second to none in the country in the interest of its position, the solid progress in occupation and and reorganization that has been effected, and the opportunity it affords as the base of magnificent operations against the rebellion.—It needs, I will not say generals, but men. We have a force large enough for occupation, for slowly extending our lines here and there, but we have not men to send out where there are risks to be encountered and great stakes to be desperately played for. We must hold fast what we have, and to do that must display caution if we show nothing else. But we are in the heart of the rebellion. On all sides is an element of terrible strength to us and of terrible weakness to the enemy. We have the emancipation proclamation, and are surrounded on all sides by slavery. Give us force enough here to penetrate the abode of rebellion, to move on in Mississippi or on the other bank of the river—but Mississippi seems to offer the fairest chance—while Rosecrans and Grant are finding their way southward, and what a prospect of victory opens!

The proclamation will bring an immense force to us at every step, and if it is not permitted to add to our military strength it will leave disorganization, poverty and distress behind it. Rebellion, startled out of its fancied immunity at Richmond and the banks of the Rappahannock, would hasten from its frontier to keep the slaves at this place raising food for the confederate army, to protect the centre of the slave interest and the vital part of the insurrection from our "invasion." To invade Mississippi is to strike a telling blow at Richmond, to give peace to Kentucky and Tennessee, to carry war from the loyal border states into regions where loyalty is a crime and treason the new charity hiding multitudes of sins.

In some respects the "Banks' Expedition" presents strange features. The most inviolable, inscrutable secrecy was preserved concerning it at the north, to the derangement, there is no doubt, of some of the designs for its completeness and efficiency. It arrives at the Delta, and many vessels steam up to Baton Rouge loaded with a most precious and anxiously waited and hoped for importation of troops. They do nothing against the enemy. This is not the fault of the men. It is not the fault of the commanding general. The troops are largely composed of nine months' men, to whom the mysteries of the manual and company movements are a sealed book. They go to work industriously, some of them with a will, but they must be drilled before venturing into line of battle before an enemy. What is the consequence?

The secrecy which elicited the praise of New York can effect nothing further. The enemy has spies enough, and they are busily employed in noting the numbers and proficiency of regiments, the time when their services will be available, and their strength when they are so, and, lo! when we have soldiers to use, we have a force appear upon our left, another on our front, and there are suspicious signs upon our right, and advance seems hardihood and our strength must lie dormant. If these men had drilled at home, and the expedition, if such troops must compose it, had been delayed until they were of some practical use, then the secrecy would have answered a purpose, and the r appearance here might have been the signal immediately preceding rapid and overwhelming blows, where blows were not looked for.

The Poor Whites of the South.

The following extracts are from a book recently published by Rev. Mr. Aughey, a Union refugee from Mississippi:

The sojourner in the slave states is struck with the wretched and degraded appearance of a class of people called by the slaveholders, "poor white folks," and the "tallow-faced gentry," from their pallid complexion. They live in wretched hovels, dress slatternly, and are exceedingly filthy in their habits. Many of them are clay or dirt-eaters, which is said to cause their peculiar complexion. Their children, at a very early age, form this filthy and disgusting habit; and mere infants may be found with their mouths filled with dirt. The mud with which they daub the interstices between the logs of their rude domicils, must frequently be renewed, as the occupants pick it all out in a very short time, and eat it. This pernicious practice induces disease. The complexion becomes pale, similar to that occasioned by chronic ague and fever.

Akin to this is the practice of snuff-dipping, which is not confined exclusiv ly to females of the poor white caste, though scarcely one in fifty of this class is exempt from this disgusting habit. The method is this: The female snuff dipper takes a short stick, and wetting it with her salivia, dips it into her snuff-box, and then rubs the gathered dust all about her mouth, and into the interstices of her teeth, where she allows it to remain until its strength has been fully absorbed. Others hold the stick thus loaded with snuff in the cheek, a la quid of tobacco, and suck it with a decided relish, while engaged in their ordinary avocations; while others simply fill the mouth with the snuff, and imitate, to all intents and purposes, the chewing propensities of the men. In the absence of snuff, tobacco in the plug or leaf is invariably resorted to as a substitute. Oriental betel-chewing, and the Japanese fashion of blacking the teeth of married ladies, are the height of elegance compared with snuff-dipping. The habit leads to a speedy decay of the teeth, and to nervous disorders of every kind.—Those who indulge in it become haggard at a very early age.

The Petersburg (Va.) Express estimates the number of women in that state at one hundred and twenty five thousand, one hundred thousand of whom are snuff-dippers. Every five of these will use a two ounce paper of snuff per day; that is, to the hundred thousand dippers, two thousand five hundred pounds a day, amounting, in one year, to the enormous quantity of nine hundred and twelve thousand pounds.—This practice prevails generally, it says, among the poor whites, though some females of the nigger classes are guilty of it.

The poor whites obtain their subsistence, as far as practicable, in the primitive aboriginal mode, viz., by hunting and fishing. When these methods fail to afford a supply, they cultivate a truck-patch, and some of them raise a bale or two of cotton, with the proceeds of the sale of which they buy whisky, tobacco, and a few necessary articles. When all other methods fail, they resort to stealing, to which many of them are addicted from choice, as well as well as from necessity. They are exceeding slovenly in their habits, cleanliness being a rare virtue. Indolence is a prevailing vice, and its lamentable effects are everywhere visible. They fully obey the scriptural injunction, take no thought for the morrow. A present supply, sufficient to satisfy nature's most urgent demands, being obtained, their care ceases, and they relapse into listless inactivity. They herd together upon the poor sand-hills, the refuse land of the country, which the rich slaveholder will not purchase, for which reason, they are sometimes called sand-hillers, and here they live, and their children, and their children's children, through successive generations, in the same deplorable condition of wretchedness and degradation.

They are exceedingly ignorant; not one adult in fifty can write; not one in twenty can read. They can scarcely be said to speak the English language, using a patois which is scarcely intelligible. An old lady thus related an incident of which her daughter "Sal" was the heroine. "My darter Sal yisterdy sot the lather to the damsel troe, and clim up, and knocked some of the nicest saftset damsels I ever seed in my born days." I once called to make some inquiry about the road, at a small log-tenement, inhabited by a sand-hiller and family. A sheet was hanging upon the wall, containing the portraits of the Presidents of the United States. I remarked to the lady of the house that those were, I believed, the pictures of the Presidents.

"Yes!" she replied; "they is, and I've hearn tell of 'em a long time. They must be gittin' mighty old, ef some of 'em aint dead. That top one," she continued, "is Gineral Washington. I've hearn of him ever sence I was a gal. He must be gittin' up in years, ef he aint dead. Him and Gineral Jackson fit the British and Tories at New Orleans, and whipped 'em, too."

She seemed so pride herself greatly on historical knowledge.

One of these geniuses once informed me of a peculiar kind of book "he'd hearn tell on," that the Yankees had. He had forgotten its name, but thus described it: "It told the day of the week the month come in on. It told when we was a gwine to have rain, and what kind of wether we was a gwine to have in gineral. May-be they call it a rain book."

I replied that I had heard of the book, and I believed that it was called an almanac.

"You've said it now," remarked the man. "It's an alminick, and I'd give half I's wuth to have one. I'd no when to take an umberell, and if I baddent nary one, I'd no when I could go a huntin' without gittin' wet."

Two of these semi-savages had resolved to remove to the west, in hope of bettering their condition. One wished to remove to Arkansas, the other to Texas. The wife of the former wished to go to Texas, the latter to Arkansas. The husbands were desirous of gratifying their spouses, but could devise no plan that seemed likely to prove satisfactory, till one day when hunting, finding game scarce, they set down upon a log, when the following dialogue took place:

"Kit, I'm sort o' pestered about Dilsie. She swars to Rackensack she'll go, and no whar else. I allers had a hankerin' arter Texas. Plague take Rackensack, I say! Ef a man war thar, the ager and the airthquakes ed shake him out on it quicker en nothin'."

"When a woman's set on a gwine anywhar they're a gwine. It's jest no use to talk. I've coaxed Minnie mor'n a little to go long with me to Arkansas, and the more I coax, the more she wont go."

"Well, Kit, 'sposen we swap women."

"Well, Sam, what trade'll ye gin?"

"Oh! a gentleman's trade, of course!"

"Shucks, Sam! 'sposen I had a young filly, and you a old mar, ye wouldn't ax an even trade, would ye?"

"No; it 'nd be too hard. I tell ye what I'll do, Kit. Here's a shot-gun that's wuth ten dollars, ef it's wuth a red. I'll give it, and that ar b'ar skin hangin' on the side of my shanty, to boot, and say it's a trade."

"Nuff sed, ef the women's agreed."

Home they went and stated the case to the women, who, after due deliberation, acceded to the proposition, having also made a satisfactory arrangement about the children, and they all went on their way rejoicing to their respective distinations in that

"American's haven of eternal rest,
Found a little further west."

SEEING THE ELEPHANT.

On the Sabbath after the completion of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, a large number of the sand-billers came to Iuka Springs, to witness the passing of the cars. Arriving too early, they visited a church where divine service was progressing. While the minister was in the midst of his sermon, the locomotive whistle sounded, when a stampede took place to the railroad. The exodus left the parson almost alone in his glory. The passing train caused the most extravagant expressions and gestures of wonder and astonishment by these rude observers. It was an era in their life.

Once while standing on the railroad track, I observed a crowd of these people coming to see the "elephant." They came so near, that I overheard their conversation. One young lass, of sweet sixteen, with slattern dress and disheveled hair, looking up the road, which was visible for a great distance, thus expressed her astonishment at what she saw: "O, dad! what a long piece of iron!" Soon the whistle sounded; this they had never heard before, and came to the conclusion that it was a dinner-horn. As soon as the cars came in sight, they scattered like frightened sheep, some on one side of the road, and some on the other. Nor did they halt till they had placed fifty yards at least between them and the track.

POPULAR SUPERSTITIONS.

Superstition prevails among them to a fearful extent. Almost every hut has a horse-shoe nailed above the door, or on the threshold, to keep out witches. In sickness charms and incantations are used to drive away disease. Their physicians are chiefly what are termed faith-doctors, who are said to work miraculous cures. They are strong believers in luck. If a rabbit cross their path, they will turn round, to change their luck. If, on setting out on a journey, an owl hoot on the left hand, they will return and set out anew. If the new moon is seen through brush, or on the left hand, it is a bad omen. They will have trouble during the lunar month. When the whippoorwill is first heard in the spring, they turn head over heels thrice, to prevent backache during the year. Dreams are harbingers of joy or woe. To dream of snakes, is ominous. To dream of seeing a coffin, or conversing with the dead, is a sign of approaching dissolution, and many have no doubt perished through terror, occasioned by such dreams. Fortune-tellers are rife among them—those sages whose comprehensive view knows the past, the present, and the future. They seek unto familiar spirits, that peep and mutter, for the living to the dead.

Legislative Summary.

FRIDAY, March 27.

SENATE.—The senate met at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and transacted quite an amount of business. A bill was passed incorporating the Grand River and Mississippi Road Company; to repeal an act passed in 1862, entitled "to quiet titles in certain cases"; to incorporate Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay Plank Road Company.

This morning a bill was passed for the settlement of the liabilities of the state, if any, to the Rock River Canal Company; one to authorize the Chicago and North western Railway Company to issue preferred capital stock with which to pay its second mortgage bonds. Senator Clark introduced as a substitute a bill for raising a state tax to pay $300 for each man hereafter required to make up the quota of this state, and supported it in a speech which showed that he has tacked about on war matters.—Madison Journal.

COLONEL COBURN HEARD FROM.—A letter dated Shelbyville, Tennessee, on the 9th, was received on Saturday night, by his relatives in this city, from Col. Coburn, who was captured near Franklin, Tenn., recently, as our readers are all aware, after a most gallant resistance, giving such an account as he dared of his fight and circumstances. Of the fight he says nothing in addition to what has already been published, except that "the artillery and cavalry fled, and we fired the last cartridge from our muskets, and could do no more. This fact adds another to the already abundant reasons for the conviction that our men did all that mortal courage could do before they surrendered. The colonel says in regard to his officers: "None of your friends are injured; Henderson, Utley, Crance, Baird, Craig, Shafter, Miller and Gilbert, [not the general—ED.] did all that men could do—no shrinking, no dodging, but stern and struggling to the last." Of his present situation, he says: "We are doing well, have been politely treated, and have not been jeered at, as I am sorry to say I have seen others treated. I want nothing, not even good spirits." He says, "Our loss was 120 killed and wounded, and 1,266 prisoners." This is, of course, the most authentic statement as to the number of prisoners we can have. As to his destination he says: "The date of our release or exchange is totally unknown, as also our destination; perhaps it will be Atlanta or Richmond."—Indianapolis Jour.

SIGNATURE OF THE CROSS.—How many of those who daily see X appended to a document of those who are unable to write, ever take the trouble to discover its signification. The mark that persons who are unable to write are required to make instead of their signature is the sign of a cross, and this practice having formerly been followed by kings and nobles, instantly referred to as an instance of the deplorable ignorance of ancient times. This signature is not, however, invariable proof of such ignorance anciently. The use of this mark was not confined to illiterate persons, for amongst the Saxons, the mark of the cross, as attestation of the good faith of the person signing, was then required to be attached to the signature of those who could not write. In those times, if a man could write, or even read, his knowledge was considered proof positive or presumptive that he was in holy order. The "clericus" or clerk was synonymous with penman; and the laity or people who were not clerks, did not feel any necessity for the use of letters.

The ancient use of the cross was therefore universal, alike by those who could and those who could not write; it was indeed the symbol of an oath from its holy association and generally the mark. On this account Mr. Charles Knight, in his notes to the Pictorial Shakspeare, explains the expression of "God save the mark" as the form of ejeculation approaching the character of an oath. This phrase occurs three or four times in the plays of Shakspeare; but hitherto it has been left by the commentators in its original obscurity. With these associations clustering around it, the sign of the cross should not be made a subject of ridicule, but rather be treated as having important meaning when appended to a document; being at once a signature and an affimation to the truth of what is there written.

At Centralia, Southern Illinois, the out-and-out Unionists have elected their entire ticket for city officers by majorities ranging from 9 to 70. At Pana, in Southern Illinois, a democratic town, the Unionists have also elected their candidates.

Last Night's Report.

CAIRO, March 27.

Spicial to Chicago Evening Journal.—Last Saturday night another barge containing 21,000 bushels of coal was floated past the batteries at Vicksburg in safety, for the use of Farragut's boats.

The Memphis Bulletin of Wednesday says: "Admiral Porter's gunboats, three in number, had reached the Yazoo river, by the Sunflower route, and that they had reached Greenwood."

The latter statement must be received with caution. There is no doubt but a better, safer and more direct route has been found to the rear of Haines' Bluff than by way of Yazoo Pass.

The Bulletin further says: "Our forces at Greenwood had abandoned the undertaking of forcing a passage, and had returned. When within 50 miles of the Mississippi, it met Gen. Quimby's division coming to reinforce them. A conference was held, the result of which was not certainly known, but it is thought in consequence of the success of the new route the whole force would return.

The steamer Jenny Lind had run on a snag and sunk. She was loaded with commissary stores, most of which were saved. The boat will be raised.

When the last boats left Memphis the secessionists were trying to get up a scare; saying ten thousand rebels were twenty miles down the Hernando road, coming to attack the city. Our pickets had been driven in, but no doubt it is a little guerrilla affair, having no important significance.

It was also rumored that Grand Junction had been captured.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, March 28.

The Tribune's despatch from Washington says that late last night the government received information that the only vessel of Farragut's fleet which has been heard of by our forces opposite Vicksburg is the Hartford. The rebel telegrams from Vicksburg however, say that the Monongahelia passed Port Hudson in her company.

Congressman Casey arrived here from Kentucky, to-day, expresses the opinion that the rebels really meditate an invasion of his state in force. Their sympathizers are expecting them and boldly boast that they will occupy and hold the whole of Kentucky. The invasion is a necessity with them, in Casey's opinion; now that they have lost it he considers it almost certain it being impossible for them to subsist the garrisons of Port Hudson and Vicksburg, unless they can draw supplies from the west side of the river, which our fleet commands the more easily and thoroughly now while the water is so high.

Information was received of the presence of a small body of rebel cavalry in the vicinity of Bull Run, this morning.

NEW YORK, March 28.

The Asia, from Liverpool, with dates of the 15th, is below.

The prize steamer Peterhuff has arrived.

Washington specials say that there are rumors that Stonewall Jackson is working up the Shenandoah. If true, this would account for the movement of the enemy at Banks' and U. S. fords, to prevent the crossing of any portion of Hooker's army; also for the continued presence of rebel cavalry along the lines of defence of Washington to prevent scouting.

Intelligence was received to-night of the appearance of rebels in the vicinity of Vienna.

Official and private advices have been received here from the City of Mexico to the 2d of March, one week later than the last mail. All letters are written in the best spirits, and speak with unabated confidence of the certainty of success against the French invaders. Facts which they communicate tend to show the justice of these anticipations. So far from having taken the city of Mexico, as a rebel journal asserted, or advanced to within eleven leagues of it, Gen. Forey has fallen back 10 miles. On the 25th he was within 15 miles of Puebla, but on the 2d he was 35 miles distant. It was, however, anticipated that Puebla would be attacked by the 15th inst.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, March 28.

PER THE ASIA.—The steamer Hawkins has arrived at Liverpool from Matamoras with 1,800 bales of cotton and $600,000 in specie. The barque Fanny arrived at Queenstown from Wilmington with cotton and turpentine. The diplomatic correspondence on the American war is published. Adams' letter refers principally to the Alabama, and complains of the course of England in the matter. Mason's letter is an appeal for recognition, urging that the blockade be declared null. He is greatly dissatisfied at the refusal of his application.

The Times again argues against England being accountable for the doings of the Alabama. The confederate loan of three million pounds was expected to be introduced in Paris and London the week after the Asia's departure.

Accounts of the Polish insurrection are vague. The number of insurrectionists is estimated at 50,000. There have been great demonstrations in Marseilles in favor of Poland. The Russian consulate was threatened by a mob. A deputation had a conference with Palmerston urging the interference of England in favor of Poland; that war would be popular. Palmerston did not commit himself.

Authorities report flour unchanged.—Wheat firmer, 2a3d better. Pork unchanged.

[Very Latest, Saturday night]

Cotton advanced 1¼d. Breadstuffs quiet and steady. Wheat firm and active. Corn dull, with declining tendency. Provisions quiet and steady. Consols 92¼.

The Poles defeated the Russians near Myzzowa. One hundred Russians were killed.

NEW YORK, March 28.

Flour 10c better, 645a700 for extra state. Wheat firmer, very quiet nominal; common 1c better, quiet at 87a89 for sound, 81 a85 for unsound. Pork firmer. Whiskey, 45¼a46¼. Stocks, active and higher at the board; since, a shade lower. Money and exchange unchanged. Gold, 42½.

UNION INSURRECTION IN TEXAS.—We have had heretofore, reports from Texas of the existence of an organized opposition to the rebel authorities on the part of Union men, but we now have an official announcement of the fact. The French consul at Galveston, M. Theron, has issued an address to the French, Spanish and Italian subjects in the counties of Colorado, Austin and Fayette, in which he states that "martial law has been proclaimed in these counties on account of some insurrectionary movements," and expresses the hope that they will not be induced to join the enemies of their adopted country. He further adds: "I have full confidence in Major General J. B. Magruder. His chivalry and integrity are sufficient protection against any injustice."

WHERE THEY ARE.—The Woonsocket Patriot, alluding to the fact that 1,276 men have deserted from Rhode Island regiments, inquires: "Where are they?" The Providence Journal answers the question as follows: "They are writing letters—no, making their marks to letters written by others—relative to the demoralization of the army; they are vociferously applauding resolutions that assert that this war is prosecuted in the interest of New England fanaticism; they are hurrahing when their orators proclaim that 'Old Abe is a brainless idiot;' they are clamoring with simulated horror against the subordination of the civil to the military power; and trembling with genuine terror lest they may be dragged from their peaceful homes by a dangerous and unconstitutional militia conscription bill."

A gentleman, in the course of conversation with General Hooker, last week, remarked that he had a son in the army.—"Before ninety days," replied "fighting Joe," "you will be prouder of that fact than any other fact of your life."

From the Marshall [Mich.] Statesman.

No physician of our acquaintance has so generally gained the public confidence as Dr. V. Clarence Price, the analytical physician, during the past five years that he has visited our city. He has performed many remarkable cures upon patients afflicted with long standing complaints, which was in many cases considered hopeless. He has proved himself a successful and skillful physician, and we recommend him to those suffering from disease that will not yield to ordinary methods of cure, as one candid, able and responsible. Dr. Price confines himself exclusively to the treatment of diseases of the lungs, liver, heart, stomach, kidneys, and those affections of long standing. He has made his visits regularly for years, and will continue to do so. Dr. Price may be found on his next visit to Janesville during Saturday and Sunday, the 4th and 5th of April, at the Myers House. w2d1d

The Post Master at Milwaukee.

We learn that the rumor of the removal of John Lockwood as port master of Milwaukee, and the appointment of C. L. Sholes, proves correct. We also understand that Mr. Lockwood had no notice of the intention of the government, and that no charges were preferred against him. It is understood, however, that the removal was made at the instigation of Senator Doolittle, because Mr. Lockwood did not support him in the late contest for the senatorship.

It is believed, not without good reason, that Senator Doolittle had the control of nearly the entire federal patronage of the state for the purpose of insuring his election. This has been submitted to in silence by that large portion of the republican party who were opposed to his re-election, hoping and expecting that, having succeeded in his desires, his election would be the end of the contest.

It seems, however, that this reasonable expectation is not to be realized, and that the senator is disposed to proscribe and and punish those who did not favor him. We may conclude that the displacement of Mr. Lockwood is but the beginning of the working of the official guillotine, and that it will not cease until all who were not Doolittle men are removed from office.

Should this become the practice in the republican party it would reduce its members to the condition of mere slaves of the dominant faction, having no freedom of choice in regard to candidates for office within its organization, to be controlled by the successful demagogues who succeed best in obtaining the ear of power, and rendering all liable to become the victims of proscription who do not sacrifice their independence and manhood to the dictation of intriguing party leaders. Against this tyrannical abuse of political organizations we shall always protest. If persisted in it can have no other effect than an early dissolution and disastrous defeat of the party which sanctions so great an outrage upon the rights of those who compose it.

Those Who Vote Must Bear Arms.

The opinion of the supreme court reaffirms the doctrine announced by the secretary of war some months ago, that those who vote are liable to draft for military service. Men who are citizens sufficiently to vote and to hold office are sufficiently citizens to be liable to aid in the defence of the government.

Club Meeting Last Night.

The court room was filled last evening with an intelligent audience to hear Senator Howe and Mr. Nichols. The latter made the first address, and for an hour kept his hearers attentive listeners. His address abounded in good things and just sentiments, and was filled with those sharp thrusts all expected to hear. Sen. Howe spoke for about an hour, and made an excellent speech. His exhortations to unity in support of the war were earnest and met a warm response, while his condemnation of those who are withholding their support and embarrassing the prosecution of the war were justly severe and well timed. Such meetings are efficient helpers of the cause of loyalty against rebellion in the south and treason in the north.

CAUGHT A TARTAR.—The democrats and conservatives, so called, of Rhode Island, recently nominated Ex-Gov. Hoppin as their candidate for governor. They adopted resolutions tinged with copperhead sentiments. The candidate refuses to run on such a platform. "My expectations," he says, "of uniting the democratic and conservative strength of Rhode Island in support of the general government not having been realized by the proceedings of the convention I must respectfully decline the nomination." In a letter to Gov. Sprague, he said that if his name was to be used as a candidate, "the canvass must be conducted on the platform of absolute and unconditional loyalty and fidelity to the Union of the states, its constitution and government. The democrats have accordingly taken up Wm. C. Cozzans, of Newport, formerly a prominent know nothing.

DEFEATED.—The bill allowing the Racine Railroad to consolidate with the Chicago & Northwestern has been defeated in the assembly by a decided vote. It is expected that all other bills of the same nature will meet with the same fate.

SALE OF GOLD.—The treasurer of this state has sold the gold in the treasury, and realized over $10,000 in premium. This will make good all the state ever lost on depreciated currency.

THE REBEL DESPOTISM.—The Richmond Enquirer, of Wednesday last says:

"The conscription officers have been quite busy for a few days, hereabouts, hauling in the nice young men."

A SIGN.—The New York Herald generally follows the course of public sentiment, good or bad. The Herald now speaks out strongly for the government and against copperheads.

From The Gulf Department.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Evening Post.

NEW ORLEANS, March 15.

Our news from Baton Rouge is meagre in detail. A reconnoissance in force took place some days since. We learn that this was accomplished by three brigades, which advanced slowly from Baton Rouge on the road leading toward Port Hudson, removing felled timber, etc., with which the way was obstructed, until they reached a stream some six miles from Baton Rouge, the bridge over which had been destroyed.—The force then returned to Baton Rouge, and no further news of a forward movement has reached New Orleans.

THE REBEL POSITION AT PORT HUDSON.

Army officers are satisfied that the strength of the rebels at Port Hudson has been much underrated, and that the place is occupied by at least forty-five thousand men, a large portion of them well drilled and accustomed to service. It is said that Gen. Joe Johnson is or is to be in command. Port Hudson, with the natural advantages of its position, its fortifications skillfully constructed and laid out, its large body of defenders and its experienced and able commandant, will undoubtedly prove a dearly bought acquisition when it comes into the hands of the government. It is a matter of very grave doubt whether this department can at present spare an effective force sufficient for its reduction.

The danger of a flank movement by the enemy, bringing a force between the advancing army and Baton Rouge, or falling suddenly upon that place, is not to be lost sight of for an instant. In a word Gen. Banks has not men enough under him fit for service to undertake a forward movement of great magnitude, and at the same time protect the territory already occupied, and keep up his connection with the base of operations.

THE REAL PURPOSE AND IMPORTANCE OF THE MOVEMENT.

I am informed by an official of very high position, that the movement against Port Hudson is merely a feint to cover an attempt to be made within a few days, if it did not take place last night, to run the fleet under Admiral Farragut past Port Hudson, for the purpose of taking possession of that great highway for the passage of confederate supplies, the Red river and of stopping the career of the Queen of the West and her associates between Port Hudson and Vicksburg. If the fleet should succeed in this enterprise they would inflict a damage upon the rebellion hardly to be over-estimated. The amount of supplies of provisions and manufactured goods crossing the Mississippi for the confederacy within this region, now wholly under rebel control, is prodigious.

To obtain permanent possession of the Red river and the Mississippi along this region would be worth more to the United States, in the present and the future, than almost any other possible success. The rebels are fully aware of this, as the presence of two great armies at Vicksburg and Port Hudson, and the force under Bragg before Rosecrans—which also protects the Mississippi by guarding the flanks of the armies on its banks—sufficiently attests. The time is not long since passed since a few gunboats, actively cruising up and down the river south of Vicksburg, could have kept it open from the Delta to that point, and have prevented the erection of the fortifications which have made a Gibraltar of Port Hudson.

Even now there are five or six bluffs unprotected by strong defenses between Vicksburg and Port Hudson, and the advent of a few heavily-armed steamers upon that part of the river would prove a godsend to the Union cause. Give the rebels time, and there is no doubt that they will make the most of the natural strength of these positions. Vicksburg and Port Hudson now in our hands, it would be necessary to occupy those intermediate bluffs without delay, build strong works upon them, and place strong garrisons therein. Then 75,000 men would be none too few to hold the river and keep its navigation possible, until the successes of our arms in the interior should render it impossible that the enemy could attempt to regain the great aorta of our western prosperity.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF.

This department is second to none in the country in the interest of its position, the solid progress in occupation and and reorganization that has been effected, and the opportunity it affords as the base of magnificent operations against the rebellion.—It needs, I will not say generals, but men. We have a force large enough for occupation, for slowly extending our lines here and there, but we have not men to send out where there are risks to be encountered and great stakes to be desperately played for. We must hold fast what we have, and to do that must display caution if we show nothing else. But we are in the heart of the rebellion. On all sides is an element of terrible strength to us and of terrible weakness to the enemy. We have the emancipation proclamation, and are surrounded on all sides by slavery. Give us force enough here to penetrate the abode of rebellion, to move on in Mississippi or on the other bank of the river—but Mississippi seems to offer the fairest chance—while Rosecrans and Grant are finding their way southward, and what a prospect of victory opens!

The proclamation will bring an immense force to us at every step, and if it is not permitted to add to our military strength it will leave disorganization, poverty and distress behind it. Rebellion, startled out of its fancied immunity at Richmond and the banks of the Rappahannock, would hasten from its frontier to keep the slaves at this place raising food for the confederate army, to protect the centre of the slave interest and the vital part of the insurrection from our "invasion." To invade Mississippi is to strike a telling blow at Richmond, to give peace to Kentucky and Tennessee, to carry war from the loyal border states into regions where loyalty is a crime and treason the new charity hiding multitudes of sins.

In some respects the "Banks' Expedition" presents strange features. The most inviolable, inscrutable secrecy was preserved concerning it at the north, to the derangement, there is no doubt, of some of the designs for its completeness and efficiency. It arrives at the Delta, and many vessels steam up to Baton Rouge loaded with a most precious and anxiously waited and hoped for importation of troops. They do nothing against the enemy. This is not the fault of the men. It is not the fault of the commanding general. The troops are largely composed of nine months' men, to whom the mysteries of the manual and company movements are a sealed book. They go to work industriously, some of them with a will, but they must be drilled before venturing into line of battle before an enemy. What is the consequence?

The secrecy which elicited the praise of New York can effect nothing further. The enemy has spies enough, and they are busily employed in noting the numbers and proficiency of regiments, the time when their services will be available, and their strength when they are so, and, lo! when we have soldiers to use, we have a force appear upon our left, another on our front, and there are suspicious signs upon our right, and advance seems hardihood and our strength must lie dormant. If these men had drilled at home, and the expedition, if such troops must compose it, had been delayed until they were of some practical use, then the secrecy would have answered a purpose, and their appearance here might have been the signal immediately preceding rapid and overwhelming blows, where blows were not looked for.

The Poor Whites of the South.

The following extracts are from a book recently published by Rev. Mr. Aughey, a Union refugee from Mississippi:

The sojourner in the slave states is struck with the wretched and degraded appearance of a class of people called by the slaveholders, "poor white folks," and the "tallow-faced gentry," from their pallid complexion. They live in wretched hovels, dress slatternly, and are exceedingly filthy in their habits. Many of them are clay or dirt-eaters, which is said to cause their peculiar complexion. Their children, at a very early age, form this filthy and disgusting habit; and mere infants may be found with their mouths filled with dirt. The mud with which they daub the interstices between the logs of their rude domicils, must frequently be renewed, as the occupants pick it all out in a very short time, and eat it. This pernicious practice induces disease. The complexion becomes pale, similar to that occasioned by chronic ague and fever.

Akin to this is the practice of snuff-dipping, which is not confined exclusively to females of the poor white caste, though scarcely one in fifty of this class is exempt from this disgusting habit. The method is this: The female snuff dipper takes a short stick, and wetting it with her salivia, dips it into her snuff-box, and then rubs the gathered dust all about her mouth, and into the interstices of her teeth, where she allows it to remain until its strength has been fully absorbed. Others hold the stick thus loaded with snuff in the cheek, a la quid of tobacco, and suck it with a decided relish, while engaged in their ordinary avocations; while others simply fill the mouth with the snuff, and imitate, to all intents and purposes, the chewing propensities of the men. In the absence of snuff, tobacco in the plug or leaf is invariably resorted to as a substitute. Oriental betel-chewing, and the Japanese fashion of blacking the teeth of married ladies, are the height of elegance compared with snuff-dipping. The habit leads to a speedy decay of the teeth, and to nervous disorders of every kind.—Those who indulge in it become haggard at a very early age.

The Petersburg (Va.) Express estimates the number of women in that state at one hundred and twenty five thousand, one hundred thousand of whom are snuff-dippers. Every five of these will use a two ounce paper of snuff per day; that is, to the hundred thousand dippers, two thousand five hundred pounds a day, amounting, in one year, to the enormous quantity of nine hundred and twelve thousand pounds.—This practice prevails generally, it says, among the poor whites, though some females of the nigger classes are guilty of it.

The poor whites obtain their subsistence, as far as practicable, in the primitive aboriginal mode, viz., by hunting and fishing. When these methods fail to afford a supply, they cultivate a truck-patch, and some of them raise a bale or two of cotton, with the proceeds of the sale of which they buy whisky, tobacco, and a few necessary articles. When all other methods fail, they resort to stealing, to which many of them are addicted from choice, as well as well as from necessity. They are exceeding slovenly in their habits, cleanliness being a rare virtue. Indolence is a prevailing vice, and its lamentable effects are everywhere visible. They fully obey the scriptural injunction, take no thought for the morrow. A present supply, sufficient to satisfy nature's most urgent demands, being obtained, their care ceases, and they relapse into listless inactivity. They herd together upon the poor sand-hills, the refuse land of the country, which the rich slaveholder will not purchase, for which reason, they are sometimes called sand-hillers, and here they live, and their children, and their children's children, through successive generations, in the same deplorable condition of wretchedness and degradation.

They are exceedingly ignorant; not one adult in fifty can write; not one in twenty can read. They can scarcely be said to speak the English language, using a patois which is scarcely intelligible. An old lady thus related an incident of which her daughter "Sal" was the heroine. "My darter Sal yisterdy sot the lather to the damsel tree, and clim up, and knocked some of the nicest saftest damsels I ever seed in my born days." I once called to make some inquiry about the road, at a small log-tenement, inhabited by a sand-biller and family. A sheet was hanging upon the wall, containing the portraits of the Presidents of the United States. I remarked to the lady of the house that those were, I believed, the pictures of the Presidents.

"Yes!" she replied; "they is, and I've hearn tell of 'em a long time. They must be gittin' mighty old, ef some of 'em aint dead. That top one," she continued, "is Gineral Washington. I've hearn of him ever sence I was a gal. He must be gittin' up in years, ef he aint dead. Him and Gineral Jackson fit the British and Tories at New Orleans, and whipped 'em, too."

She seemed to pride herself greatly on historical knowledge.

One of these geniuses once informed me of a peculiar kind of book "he'd hearn tell on," that the Yankees had. He had forgotten its name, but thus described it: "It told the day of the week the month come in on. It told when we was a gwine to have rain, and what kind of wether we was a gwine to have in gineral. May-be they call it a rain book."

I replied that I had heard of the book, and I believed that it was called an almanac.

"You've said it now," remarked the man. "I, It's an alminick, and I'd give half I's wuth to have one. I'd no when to take an umberell, and if I baddent nary one, I'd no when I could go a huntin' without gittin' wet."

Two of these semi-savages had resolved to remove to the west, in hope of bettering their condition. One wished to remove to Arkansas, the other to Texas. The wife of the former wished to go to Texas, the latter to Arkansas. The husbands were desirous of gratifying their spouses, but could devise no plan that seemed likely to prove satisfactory, till one day when hunting, finding game scarce, they set down upon a log, when the following dialogue took place:

"Kit, I'm sort o' pestered about Dilsie. She swars to Rackensack she'll go, and no whar else. I allers had a hankerin' arter Texas. Plague take Rackensack, I say! Ef a man war thar, the ager and the airthquakes ed shake him out on it quicker en nothin'."

"When a woman's set on a gwine anywhar they're a gwine. It's jest no use to talk. I've coaxed Minnie mor'n a little to go long with me to Arkansas, and the more I coax, the more she wont go."

"Well, Kit, 'sposen we swap women."

"Well, Sam, what trade'll ye gin?"

"Oh! a gentleman's trade, of course!"

"Shucks, Sam! 'sposen I had a young filly, and you a old mar, ye wouldn't ax an even trade, would ye?"

"No; it 'ud be too hard. I tell ye what I'll do, Kit. Here's a shot-gun that's wuth ten dollars, ef it's wuth a red. I'll give it, and that ar b'ar skin hangin' on the side of my shanty, to boot, and say it's a trade."

"Nuff sed, ef the women's agreed."

Home they went and stated the case to the women, who, after due deliberation, acceded to the proposition, having also made a satisfactory arrangement about the children, and they all went on their way rejoicing to their respective distinations in that

"American's haven of eternal rest,
Found a little further west."

SEEING THE ELEPHANT.

On the Sabbath after the completion of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, a large number of the sand-billers came to Iuka Springs, to witness the passing of the cars. Arriving too early, they visited a church where divine service was progressing. While the minister was in the midst of his sermon, the locomotive whistle sounded, when a stampede took place to the railroad. The exodus left the parson almost alone in his glory. The passing train caused the most extravagant expressions and gestures of wonder and astonishment by these rude observers. It was an era in their life.

Once while standing on the railroad track, I observed a crowd of these people coming to see the "elephant." They came so near, that I overheard their conversation. One young lass, of sweet sixteen, with slattern dress and disheveled hair, looking up the road, which was visible for a great distance, thus expressed her astonishment at what she saw: "O, dad! what a long piece of iron!" Soon the whistle sounded; this they had never heard before, and came to the conclusion that it was a dinner-horn. As soon as the cars came in sight, they scattered like frightened sheep, some on one side of the road, and some on the other. Nor did they halt till they had placed fifty yards at least between them and the track.

POPULAR SUPERSTITIONS.

Superstition prevails among them to a fearful extent. Almost every hut has a horse-shoe nailed above the door, or on the threshold, to keep out witches. In sickness charms and incantations are used to drive away disease. Their physicians are chiefly what are termed faith-doctors, who are said to work miraculous cures. They are strong believers in luck. If a rabbit cross their path, they will turn round, to change their luck. If, on setting out on a journey, an owl hoot on the left hand, they will return and set out anew. If the new moon is seen through brush, or on the left hand, it is a bad omen. They will have trouble during the lunar month. When the whippoorwill is first heard in the spring, they turn head over heels thrice, to prevent backache during the year. Dreams are harbingers of joy or woe. To dream of snakes, is ominous. To dream of seeing a coffin, or conversing with the dead, is a sign of approaching dissolution, and many have no doubt perished through terror, occasioned by such dreams. Fortune-tellers are rife among them—those sages whose comprehensive view knows the past, the present, and the future. They seek unto familiar spirits, that peep and mutter, for the living to the dead.

Legislative Summary.

FRIDAY, March 27.

SENATE.—The senate met at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and transacted quite an amount of business. A bill was passed incorporating the Grand River and Mississippi Road Company; to repeal an act passed in 1862, entitled "to quiet titles in certain cases"; to incorporate Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay Plank Road Company.

This morning a bill was passed for the settlement of the liabilities of the state, if any, to the Rock River Canal Company; one to authorize the Chicago and North western Railway Company to issue preferred capital stock with which to pay its second mortgage bonds. Senator Clark introduced as a substitute a bill for raising a state tax to pay $300 for each man hereafter required to make up the quota of this state, and supported it in a speech which showed that he has tacked about on war matters.—Madison Journal.

COLONEL COBURN HEARD FROM.—A letter dated Shelbyville, Tennessee, on the 9th, was received on Saturday night, by his relatives in this city, from Col. Coburn, who was captured near Franklin, Tenn., recently, as our readers are all aware, after a most gallant resistance, giving such an account as he dared of his fight and circumstances. Of the fight he says nothing in addition to what has already been published, except that "the artillery and cavalry fled, and we fired the last cartridge from our muskets, and could do no more. This fact adds another to the already abundant reasons for the conviction that our men did all that mortal courage could do before they surrendered. The colonel says in regard to his officers: "None of your friends are injured; Henderson, Utley, Crance, Baird, Craig, Shafter, Miller and Gilbert, [not the general—ED.] did all that men could do—no shrinking, no dodging, but stern and struggling to the last." Of his present situation, he says: "We are doing well, have been politely treated, and have not been jeered at, as I am sorry to say I have seen others treated. I want nothing, not even good spirits." He says, "Our loss was 120 killed and wounded, and 1,286 prisoners." This is, of course, the most authentic statement as to the number of prisoners we can have. As to his destination he says: "The date of our release or exchange is totally unknown, as also our destination; perhaps it will be Atlanta or Richmond."—Indianapolis Jour.

SIGNATURE OF THE CROSS.—How many of those who daily see X appended to a document of those who are unable to write, ever take the trouble to discover its signification. The mark that persons who are unable to write are required to make instead of their signature is the sign of a cross, and this practice having formerly been followed by kings and nobles, instantly referred to as an instance of the deplorable ignorance of ancient times. This signature is not, however, invariable proof of such ignorance anciently. The use of this mark was not confined to illiterate persons, for amongst the Saxons, the mark of the cross, as attestation of the good faith of the person signing, was then required to be attached to the signature of those who could not write. In those times, if a man could write, or even read, his knowledge was considered proof positive or presumptive that he was in holy order. The "clericus" or clerk was synonymous with penman; and the laity or people who were not clerks, did not feel any necessity for the use of letters.

The ancient use of the cross was therefore universal, alike by those who could and those who could not write; it was indeed the symbol of an oath from its holy association and generally the mark. On this account Mr. Charles Knight, in his notes to the Pictorial Shakspeare, explains the expression of "God save the mark" as the form of ejeculation approaching the character of an oath. This phrase occurs three or four times in the plays of Shakspeare; but hitherto it has been left by the commentators in its original obscurity. With these associations clustering around it, the sign of the cross should not be made a subject of ridicule, but rather be treated as having important meaning when appended to a document; being at once a signature and an affimation to the truth of what is there written.

At Centralia, Southern Illinois, the out-and-out Unionists have elected their entire ticket for city officers by majorities ranging from 9 to 70. At Pana, in Southern Illinois, a democratic town, the Unionists have also elected their candidates.

Last Night's Report.

CAIRO, March 27.

Spicial to Chicago Evening Journal.—Last Saturday night another barge containing 21,000 bushels of coal was floated past the batteries at Vicksburg in safety, for the use of Farragut's boats.

The Memphis Bulletin of Wednesday says: "Admiral Porter's gunboats, three in number, had reached the Yazoo river, by the Sunflower route, and that they had reached Greenwood."

The latter statement must be received with caution. There is no doubt but a better, safer and more direct route has been found to the rear of Haines' Bluff than by way of Yazoo Pass.

The Bulletin further says: "Our forces at Greenwood had abandoned the undertaking of forcing a passage, and had returned. When within 50 miles of the Mississippi, it met Gen. Quimby's division coming to reinforce them. A conference was held, the result of which was not certainly known, but it is thought in consequence of the success of the new route the whole force would return.

The steamer Jenny Lind had run on a snag and sunk. She was loaded with commissary stores, most of which were saved. The boat will be raised.

When the last boats left Memphis the secessionists were trying to get up a scare, saying ten thousand rebels were twenty miles down the Hernando road, coming to attack the city. Our pickets had been driven in, but no doubt it is a little guerrilla affair, having no important significance.

It was also rumored that Grand Junction had been captured.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, March 28.

The Tribune's despatch from Washington says that late last night the government received information that the only vessel of Farragut's fleet which has been heard of by our forces opposite Vicksburg is the Hartford. The rebel telegrams from Vicksburg however, say that the Monongahelia passed Port Hudson in her company.

Congressman Casey arrived here from Kentucky, to-day, expresses the opinion that the rebels really meditate an invasion of his state in force. Their sympathizers are expecting them and boldly boast that they will occupy and hold the whole of Kentucky. The invasion is a necessity with them, in Casey's opinion; now that they have lost it he considers it almost certain it being impossible for them to subsist the garrisons of Port Hudson and Vicksburg, unless they can draw supplies from the west side of the river, which our fleet commands the more easily and thoroughly now while the water is so high.

Information was received of the presence of a small body of rebel cavalry in the vicinity of Bull Run, this morning.

NEW YORK, March 28.

The Asia, from Liverpool, with dates of the 15th, is below.

The prize steamer Peterhuff has arrived.

Washington specials say that there are rumors that Stonewall Jackson is working up the Shenandoah. If true, this would account for the movement of the enemy at Banks' and U. S. fords, to prevent the crossing of any portion of Hooker's army; also for the continued presence of rebel cavalry along the lines of defence of Washington to prevent scouting.

Intelligence was received to-night of the appearance of rebels in the vicinity of Vienna.

Official and private advices have been received here from the City of Mexico to the 2d of March, one week later than the last mail. All letters are written in the best spirits, and speak with unabated confidence of the certainty of success against the French invaders. Facts which they communicate tend to show the justice of these anticipations. So far from having taken the city of Mexico, as a rebel journal asserted, or advanced to within eleven leagues of it, Gen. Forey has fallen back 10 miles. On the 25th he was within 15 miles of Puebla, but on the 2d he was 35 miles distant. It was, however, anticipated that Puebla would be attacked by the 15th inst.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, March 28.

PER THE ASIA.—The steamer Hawkins has arrived at Liverpool from Matamoras with 1,800 bales of cotton and $600,000 in specie. The barque Fanny arrived at Queenstown from Wilmington with cotton and turpentine. The diplomatic correspondence on the American war is published. Adams' letter refers principally to the Alabama, and complains of the course of England in the matter. Mason's letter is an appeal for recognition, urging that the blockade be declared null. He is greatly dissatisfied at the refusal of his application.

The Times again argues against England being accountable for the doings of the Alabama. The confederate loan of three million pounds was expected to be introduced in Paris and London the week after the Asia's departure.

Accounts of the Polish insurrection are vague. The number of insurrectionists is estimated at 50,000. There have been great demonstrations in Marseilles in favor of Poland. The Russian consulate was threatened by a mob. A deputation had a conference with Palmerston urging the interference of England in favor of Poland; that war would be popular. Palmerston did not commit himself.

Authorities report flour unchanged.—Wheat firmer, 2a3d better. Pork unchanged.

[Very Latest, Saturday night]

Cotton advanced 1-2d. Breadstuffs quiet and steady. Wheat firm and active. Corn dull, with declining tendency. Provisions quiet and steady. Consols 92-1/2.

The Poles defeated the Russians near Myzzowa. One hundred Russians were killed.

NEW YORK, March 28.

Flour 10c better, 645a700 for extra state. Wheat firmer, very quiet nominal; common 1c better, quiet at 87a89 for sound, 81 a85 for unsound. Pork firmer. Whiskey, 45-1/2a46-1/2. Stocks, active and higher at the board; since, a shade lower. Money and exchange unchanged. Gold, 42-1/4.

UNION INSURRECTION IN TEXAS.—We have had heretofore, reports from Texas of the existence of an organized opposition to the rebel authorities on the part of Union men, but we now have an official announcement of the fact. The French consul at Galveston, M. Theron, has issued an address to the French, Spanish and Italian subjects in the counties of Colorado, Austin and Fayette, in which he states that "martial law has been proclaimed in these counties on account of some insurrectionary movements," and expresses the hope that they will not be induced to join the enemies of their adopted country. He further adds: "I have full confidence in Major General J. B. Magruder. His chivalry and integrity are sufficient protection against any injustice."

WHERE THEY ARE.—The Woonsocket Patriot, alluding to the fact that 1,276 men have deserted from Rhode Island regiments, inquires: "Where are they?" The Providence Journal answers the question as follows: "They are writing letters—no, making their marks to letters written by others—relative to the demoralization of the army; they are vociferously applauding resolutions that assert that this war is prosecuted in the interest of New England fanaticism; they are hurrahing when their orators proclaim that 'Old Abe is a brainless idiot;' they are clamoring with simulated horror against the subordination of the civil to the military power; and trembling with genuine terror lest they may be dragged from their peaceful homes by a dangerous and unconstitutional militia conscription bill."

A gentleman, in the course of conversation with General Hooker, last week, remarked that he had a son in the army.—"Before ninety days," replied "fighting Joe," "you will be prouder of that fact than any other fact of your life."

From the Marshall [Mich.] Statesman.

No physician of our acquaintance has so generally gained the public confidence as Dr. V. Clarence Price, the analytical physician, during the past five years that he has visited our city. He has performed many remarkable cures upon patients afflicted with long standing complaints, which was in many cases considered hopeless. He has proved himself a successful and skillful physician, and we recommend him to those suffering from disease that will not yield to ordinary methods of cure, as one candid, able and responsible. Dr. Price confines himself exclusively to the treatment of diseases of the lungs, liver, heart, stomach, kidneys, and those affections of long standing. He has made his visits regularly for years, and will continue to do so. Dr. Price may be found on his next visit to Janesville during Saturday and Sunday, the 4th and 5th of April, at the Myers House. w2d1d

The loyal citizens of Johnstown that are in favor of sustaining the government in putting down this unholy rebellion that exists in the land, not only in the south, but in the north, are requested to meet at the house of Mr. Young, at Johnstown Center, on THURSDAY, the 2d day of April next, at one o'clock P M, for the purpose of nominating town officers for the ensuing year. By order of

TOWN COMMITTEE.

Johnstown, March 27th, 1863.

Town of Janesville.

The republican electors of the town of Janesville are requested to meet at the Rock River House, on SATURDAY, April 4th, at one o'clock P M, to nominate town officers, to be supported at the coming election.

By order of TOWN COMMITTEE.

From the Twelfth Battery.

We received a letter from Lieut. Harlow yesterday, which states that on the 21st of March they were embarking on the steamer Tecumseh, with the 10th Missouri infantry, and expected to leave the next morning. They are destined for the Yazoo Pass. General Quimby left with the first brigade of his division on the 14th for the same destination, expecting to operate in the rear of Vicksburg. We learn from newspaper sources that he met Gen. Ross returning from Greenwood, and that he and Quimby held a consultation as to future movements. What the result was has not been ascertained.

Lieut. Harlow writes that the battery boys were glad to leave their unpleasant encampment below Helena. Several of them are on the sick list, many convalescing, but none seriously sick. Active movements would improve the sanitary condition of the company. The boys are not discouraged, as has been represented, and all are anxious to move upon the common enemy, the more speedily to close the war and return to their homes.

Major Britton returned to his command on the 20th inst. The 8th and 11th Wisconsin regiments are encamped one mile below the twelfth battery, on the banks of the Mississippi.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.—The rhetorical exercises at the High School, yesterday afternoon, were of an interesting character. The speaking by the young gentlemen evinced culture and talent, and was a marked improvement over any former exercise of the kind we have witnessed at this school. The compositions of the young ladies were, most of them, very good, and well read. A little louder tone of voice, a slower utterance, and more distinct enunciation, is required on the part of some before they arrive at perfection. The attendance at the school is large, the room being nearly full. We were glad to notice, also, a good proficiency in music; and best of all, good order, and a respectful and quiet attention to their duties, on the part of the pupils. It is a well conducted school and a credit to our city.

A FRIGHTENED "NIGGER"—"GIVING HIM FITS."—Some of our democratic friends are telling this morning a good story in connection with the meeting of the democratic club last evening. A genuine, full-blooded, ebony negro had taken a front seat in the audience, his attendance having been procured, it is suggested, for the same purpose for which revolutionary soldiers are sometimes paraded at 4th of July celebrations—to inspire enthusiasm and give effect to the eloquence of the orator. Be this as it may, for which, however, we do not vouch, the "nigger" was there, and one of the speakers used him to good effect. After rehearsing the usual democratic charges against republicans, he would conclude each specification with the question "For whom was this done?" and then answer his own question by ringing out in earnest voice, "the nigger." As he proceeded, he grew more emphatic and earnest with each succeeding charge, question and answer; Sambo going through with his part of the performance with corresponding gravity and propriety. At last the culminating charge and final question came, and the answer was given with such astounding effect and oratorical power that Sambo bounded in affright from his seat, frantically uttering the exclamation "gorra," and made an instant break for the door, at a pace which would have distanced any slave-hunter in the land. The triumph of the speaker was complete though the effect upon the "nigger" was far from desirable. It is said that a night's suffering resulted this morning in a fainting fit in a meat shop on the west side. It was too big a "boo" for so small a horse.

NEW JERSEY.—A convention of Union leagues has been called to meet at Trenton, to organise thoroughly the loyal sentiment of the state, in opposition to the treasonable schemes of the copperheads.

Lyon's Kathairon.

This delightful article for preserving and beautifying the human hair is again put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention, which first created its immense and unprecedented sales of over one million bottles annually! It is still sold at 25 cents in large bottles. Two million bottles can easily be sold in a year when it is again known that the Kathairon is not only the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but that it cleanses the scalp of scurf and dandruff, gives the hair a lively rich luxuriant growth, and prevents it from turning gray. These are considerations worth knowing. The Kathairon has been tested for over twelve years, and is warranted as described. Any lady who values a beautiful head of hair will use the Kathairon. It is finely perfumed, cheap and valuable. It is sold by all respectable dealers throughout the world.

Shade Tree Association.

LET us have a Shade Tree Association, and a Fruit Tree Association, and a Grape Vine Association, and then let us all go to the executive committee and see that every body does his whole duty. Why dont every man, woman and child plant a tree, shrub or vine and thus erect all over the country noble living monuments which shall tell of great throbbing hearts that once lived. Who does not feel his heart beat warmer and his soul happier as his memory takes him back to the old orchard and the great elms and maples that surrounded his New England home. Yes, plant trees this spring. Make your home blossom like the rose. Plant a willow and a few evergreens on your lot in the cemetery, for you will need them some day.

You ask, where shall I get the trees to plant? We are surprised to hear you ask this question, for we supposed every one intended to buy his trees at

Town of Johnstown.

The loyal citizens of Johnstown that are in favor of sustaining the government in putting down this unholy rebellion that exists in the land, not only in the south, but in the north, are requested to meet at the house of Mr. Young, at Johnstown Center, on THURSDAY, the 2d day of April next, at one o'clock P M, for the purpose of nominating town officers for the ensuing year. By order of

TOWN COMMITTEE.

Johnstown, March 27th, 1863.

Town of Janesville.

The republican electors of the town of Janesville are requested to meet at the Rock River House, on SATURDAY, April 4th, at one o'clock P M, to nominate town officers, to be supported at the coming election.

By order of TOWN COMMITTEE.

From the Twelfth Battery.

We received a letter from Lieut. Harlow yesterday, which states that on the 21st of March they were embarking on the steamer Tecumseh, with the 10th Missouri infantry, and expected to leave the next morning. They are destined for the Yazoo Pass. General Quimby left with the first brigade of his division on the 14th for the same destination, expecting to operate in the rear of Vicksburg. We learn from newspaper sources that he met Gen. Ross returning from Greenwood, and that he and Quimby held a consultation as to future movements. What the result was has not been ascertained.

Lieut. Harlow writes that the battery boys were glad to leave their unpleasant encampment below Helena. Several of them are on the sick list, many convalescing, but none seriously sick. Active movements would improve the sanitary condition of the company. The boys are not discouraged, as has been represented, and all are anxious to move upon the common enemy, the more speedily to close the war and return to their homes.

Major Britton returned to his command on the 20th inst. The 8th and 11th Wisconsin regiments are encamped one mile below the twelfth battery, on the banks of the Mississippi.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.—The rhetorical exercises at the High School, yesterday afternoon, were of an interesting character. The speaking by the young gentlemen evinced culture and talent, and was a marked improvement over any former exercise of the kind we have witnessed at this school. The compositions of the young ladies were, most of them, very good, and well read. A little louder tone of voice, a slower utterance, and more distinct enunciation, is required on the part of some before they arrive at perfection. The attendance at the school is large, the room being nearly full. We were glad to notice, also, a good proficiency in music; and best of all, good order, and a respectful and quiet attention to their duties, on the part of the pupils. It is a well conducted school and a credit to our city.

A FRIGHTENED "NIGGER"—"GIVING HIM FITS."—Some of our democratic friends are telling this morning a good story in connection with the meeting of the democratic club last evening. A genuine, full-blooded, ebony negro had taken a front seat in the audience, his attendance having been procured, it is suggested, for the same purpose for which revolutionary soldiers are sometimes paraded at 4th of July celebrations—to inspire enthusiasm and give effect to the eloquence of the orator. Be this as it may, for which, however, we do not vouch, the "nigger" was there, and one of the speakers used him to good effect. After rehearsing the usual democratic charges against republicans, he would conclude each specification with the question "For whom was this done?" and then answer his own question by ringing out in earnest voice, "the nigger." As he proceeded, he grew more emphatic and earnest with each succeeding charge, question and answer; Sambo going through with his part of the performance with corresponding gravity and propriety. At last the culminating charge and final question came, and the answer was given with such astounding effect and oratorical power that Sambo bounded in affright from his seat, frantically uttering the exclamation "gorra," and made an instant break for the door, at a pace which would have distanced any slave-hunter in the land. The triumph of the speaker was complete though the effect upon the "nigger" was far from desirable. It is said that a night's suffering resulted this morning in a fainting fit in a meat shop on the west side. It was too big a "boo" for so small a horse.

NEW JERSEY.—A convention of Union leagues has been called to meet at Trenton, to organise thoroughly the loyal sentiment of the state, in opposition to the treasonable schemes of the copperheads.

Lyon's Kathairon.

This delightful article for preserving and beautifying the human hair is again put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention, which first created its immense and unprecedented sales of over one million bottles annually. It is still sold at 25 cents in large bottles. Two million bottles can easily be sold in a year when it is again known that the Kathairon is not only the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but that it cleanses the scalp of scurf and dandruff, gives the hair a lively rich luxuriant growth, and prevents it from turning gray. These are considerations worth knowing. The Kathairon has been tested for over twelve years, and is warranted as described. Any lady who values a beautiful head of hair will use the Kathairon. It is finely perfumed, cheap and valuable. It is sold by all respectable dealers throughout the world.

Shade Tree Association.

LET us have a Shade Tree Association, and a Fruit Tree Association, and a Grape Vine Association, and then let us all get on the executive committee and see that everybody does his whole duty. Why dont every man, woman and child plant a tree, shrub or vine and thus erect all over the country noble living monuments which shall tell of great throbbing hearts that once lived. Who does not feel his heart beat warmer and his soul happier as his memory takes him back to the old orchard and the great lines and maples that surrounded his New England home. Yes, plant trees this spring. Make your home blossom like the rose. Plant a willow and a few evergreens on your lot in the cemetery, for you will need them some day.

You ask, where shall I get the trees to plant? We are surprised to hear you ask this question, for we supposed every one intended to buy his trees at

where you can find a large stock of every

Tree, Shrub or Vine

adapted to this soil and climate, and a very small stock of poor stuff such as is carried around by

Itinerant Peddlers,

who buy all they can buy cheap, and without a reputation to lose they peddle off miserable trash to the people. They got your money last year but you dont let them catch you again.

WE WARRANT EVERYTHING

to be right, and we Sell as Cheap as the Cheapest!

We sell a single tree at the following prices:

APPLE TREES, hardy tested sorts and best varieties at	15c each
PEARS, Dwarf and Standard	60c "
PLUMS	50c "
CHERRIES	38c "
CURRANTS GOOSEBERRIES AND RASPBERRIES	4c "
LAWTON BLACKBERRIES	2c "
STRAWBERRIES	5oc per 100

All at less rates if large quantities are taken.

GRAPES.

We sell no inferior sorts, and those who buy of us will be instructed in the art of pruning and training so that ten times the grapes can be had, which alone ought to induce every one to buy at least one grape root. We sell good healthy vines of large size and many now bearing and all warranted to ripen in this climate, at the following unprecedented low rates:

5,000 CONCORD, the grape for the million.
8,000 DELAWARE, the finest flavored grape.
5,000 HARTFORD PROLIFIC, the earliest grape known.
5,000 DIANA, splendid, resembling the Catawba, but ripening four weeks earlier.

At $6 per Dozen, $3 per Half Dozen, $40 per Hundred.

Also 10 000 Isabella, Clinton, Northern Muscadine, &c., &c., at $15 per hundred.

We have also all the new sorts, including Cuyahoga, Rogers, Hybrids, &c., which we can sell at the lowest market prices.

We have now the largest stock of grape vines in the west.

EVERGREENS,

all kinds, sizes and prices.

ROSES,

including Tea, China, Bourbon, Noisetta, Moss, &c., a complete stock.

EXOTICS.

Green and Hot House Plants, Bedding Plants and anything from a CAMELIA JAPONICA down.

The public are invited to visit our Grounds and Green House, and see what we are doing for you and then hereafter dont spend your money for foreign nursery stock.

ENORMOUS BUSINESS

are unsurpassed. We have one of the best

Arranged and most Commodious Stores that offers, whether at auction, private or bankrupt sale. Our European connection is under the superintendence of M. F. McKey, who spent four months there last fall, and will again proceed thither next spring.

It is needless to expatiate on the immensity of our resources; we will merely state that all our goods are

BOUGHT FOR CASH.

It is conceded by all that we do the
